

Customer Testimonial

Bott & Maple celebrate long standing relationship

"Maple share the same commitment as Bott to quality of service and workmanship, offering a consistently high standard of installation over a wide variety of projects that we have worked on together.

Making Maple our preferred installation partner

Kevin Woodward
Managing Director—Vehicle
Enhancement Division

Leading Specialist Vehicle Converter Bott Ltd have been working with Maple for more than 15 years.

Sharing a common commitment to deliver high quality products & service for their customers has been instrumental in this long-standing relationship.

In today's challenging commercial environment where price is king, valuable virtues such as professionalism, customer service and high quality workmanship can sometimes be overlooked. For Specialist Vehicle Converters Bott Ltd and Vehicle Safety & Security provider Maple, they remain intrinsic values which they refuse to compromise on.

Deep rooted in their respective companies' philosophies, the two organisations share a passion for these customer focused values, which has formed the basis of a long standing association dating back to the 1990's.

"We have a long-standing relationship with Maple Fleet Services that has flourished over more than 15 years. Maple share the same commitment as Bott to quality of service and workmanship, offering a consistently high standard of installation over a wide variety of projects that we have worked on together – making Maple our preferred installation partner," commented Kevin Woodward, Divisional Director, Bott Ltd.

A Consistently High Quality Product & Service

With a comprehensive product portfolio, Maple have provided Bott and in turn their own cliental with a host of commercial vehicle safety and security solutions, primarily installed at their premises in Ashby-de-la-Zouch, Leicestershire.

"Our customers expect a high quality product when they select Bott so we demand the same of our own suppliers, particularly when they are installing directly into the vehicle. Maple has always provided excellent solutions, from alarms to locking solutions to vehicle safety systems, ultimately we know the customer will be delighted with the end result" added Kevin.

Dedicated to Service Excellence

Maple have been providing vehicle safety and security solutions for over 40 years. With a proud history of providing innovative solutions designed around commercial vehicle operators and a commitment to supporting clients in the field, it is a philosophy that fits well with Bott themselves;

"We've always had a great working relationship with Bott, the two companies share common attitudes with a dedication to high quality products, service excellence and value for money. Our products offer Bott the opportunity to add value to their own existing range; We look forward to working with them for many years to come," commented Mark Richards, Key Account Manager for Maple.

For more information on any of our products or services, contact the sales team today.